

Installing Readmaster Plus on a Computer with Windows 7

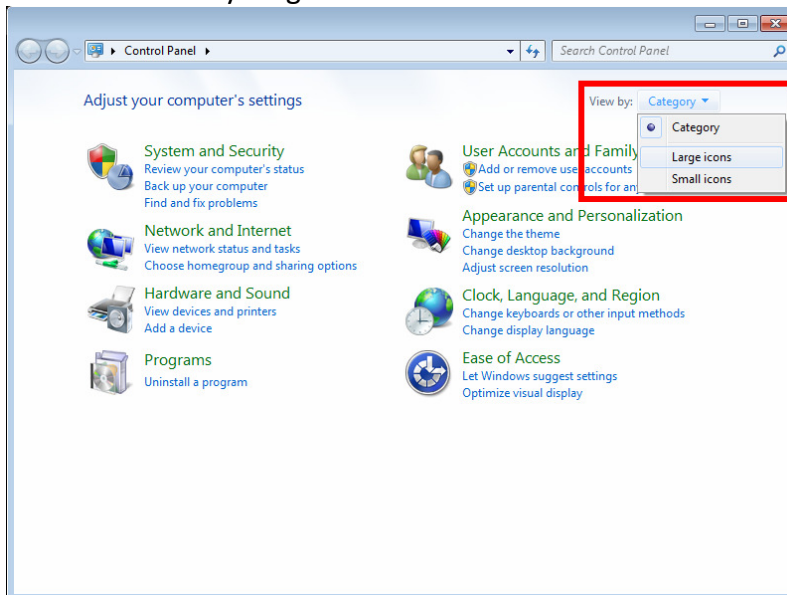

Readmaster Plus is fully compatible with Windows 7. However, during the installation, there is one security feature on Windows 7 that will prohibit Readmaster Plus from setting up completely. In order to complete the installation, you need to turn down the User Account Control (UAC) settings. After the Installation is complete, it can be turned back up. If you do not follow these steps, you may have error # 339 when you attempt to activate the license.

Here are the steps to turn down UAC.

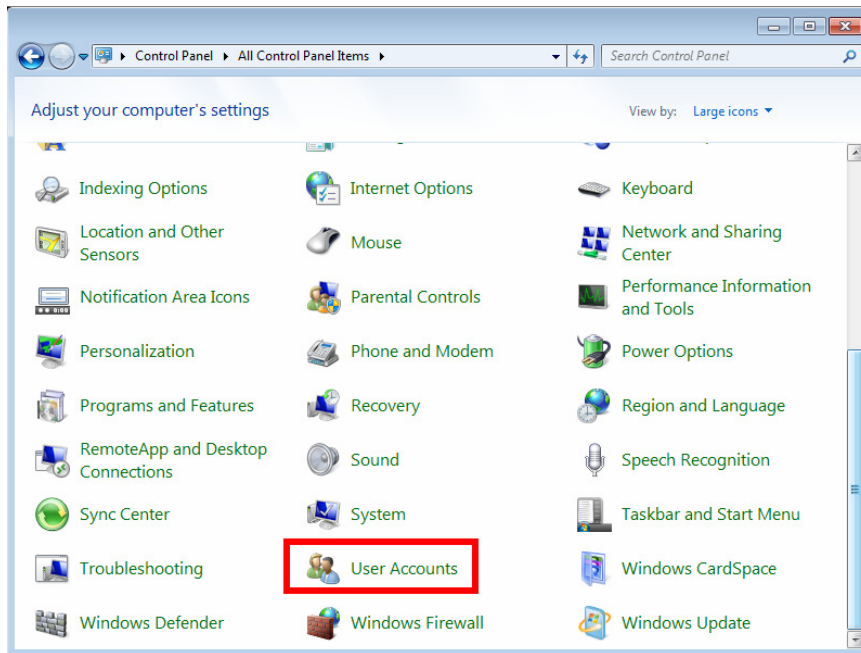

1. Open the Control Panel

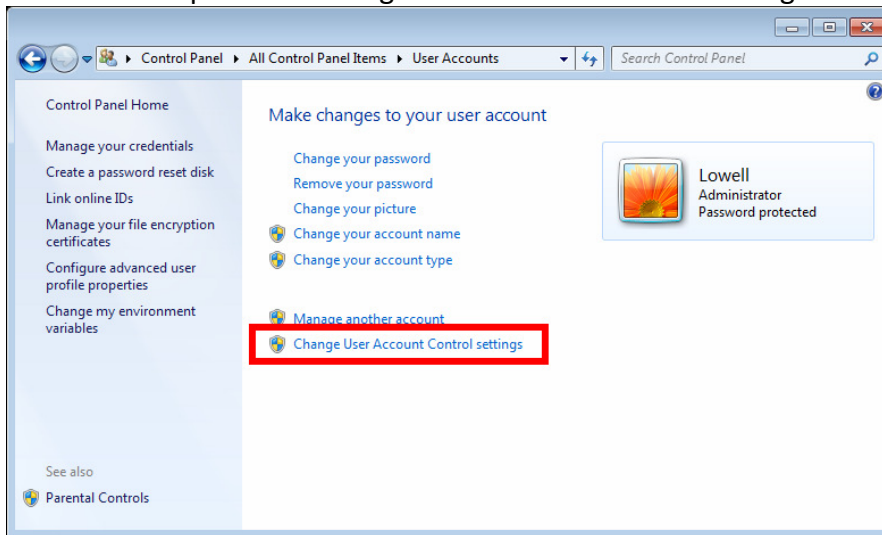

2. Click "View By Large Icons"

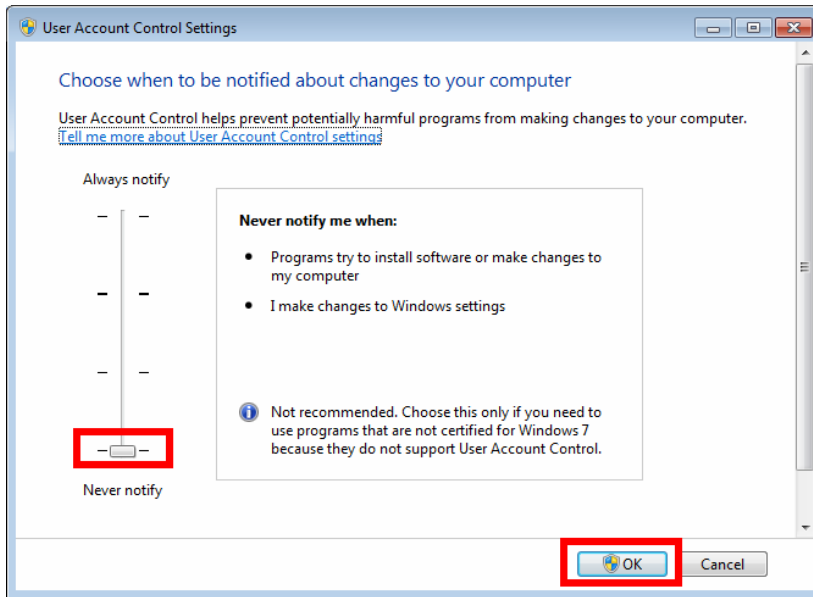

3. Open User Accounts

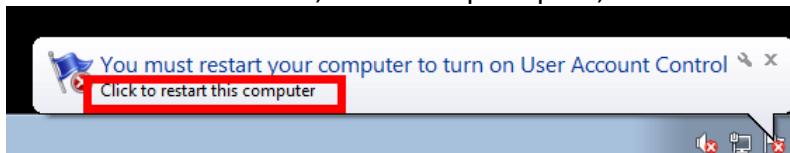

4. Click the option to “Change User Account Control Settings”

5. Move the slider bar down to “Never Notify”.

6. Press the OK button, and when prompted, restart the computer.

7. When the computer has restarted, you can insert the CD for Readmaster Plus and install the program. If you had already attempted to install the program, you may be prompted to “Modify, Repair, or Remove”. If you are given these options, choose Repair.
8. When the installation is complete, you can turn the settings for UAC back up.
