ECONOMICS COURSE STRUCTURE

When ACE came out with revised paces for units 133-144, they did the following:

1133-1138 US Civics
1139-1144 Economics (revised)

The first six paces were irrelevant to everybody except the USA. This meant that we could only use the last 6 units which resulted in a half-credit whereas before the completion of the 12 units earned a full credit.

Our Academic advisers therefore suggested that we use four of the old units (ie 133, 134, 140 and 143) in unison with the six new units (1133-1144) to enable students to claim a full credit at this level. This has worked fairly well because the content of the four old units was not covered in the new paces.

Hope this makes sense. The codes for the full course are 3133, 3134, 3140, 3143, then 8139 to 8144. The keys are a bit more complicated. To get all the ones you need, you will need to purchase: 3333; 3339; 3342; 8339; 8342.
